Welfare Committee Maps Scioto Program

Preliminary steps toward conversion of 1,244 acres in the Scioto Ordnance Works area to a boys' training school were discussed at a meeting of the seven member advisory committee of the boys' industrial school with State Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood at Columbus Monday.

The committee recommended establishment of security facilities for the area as one of the first steps to be taken, Maury C. Koblentz, administrative assistant to Mr. Sherwood, said today.

The advisory board will visit the U. S. reformatory at Chillicothe to inspect security measures possibly this week and will visit the Marion site in the near future to ascertain what is to be done here.

Recommendation of the committee was that the barracks area at the Marion site comprising 60 to 80 acres should be fenced in, Koblentz said.

Work Recommended

It was also recommended that maintenance work be undertaken at the Marion site, working over the grounds and keeping the property in shape until major building alterations and improvements get under way.

Work could be done by a crew of laborers or by institutional people the committee suggested.

After making inspection trips the advisory group would be in position to recommend specifications be drawn up and bids let for the fencing of the area and to go ahead with maintenance work.

It was the opinion of the group that the $100,000 the committee has available to go on at the present time would be spent on the site this year, Koblentz said.

Present funds, he said, represent the preliminary appropriation made by the state legislature to initiate the project. Additional funds will be asked this year to complete the project, total cost of which is expected to reach $1,000,000, including reconversion of buildings for training school purposes.

The advisory board does not contemplate occupancy of the school before next year.

Board Names Officers

The board yesterday named Judge Lloyd Bennett of Eaton, O., as chairman and Miss Hannah Trotzman of Cleveland as secretary. Miss Trotzman is executive secretary of the Ohio welfare conference.

Other members of the group appointed by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert on recommendation of Welfare Director Sherwood are Dr. T. C. Holy of the bureau of special research at Ohio State, Dr. Walter Reckless, department of social administration at Ohio State, Dr. Hershel Nisonger, Ohio State university bureau of educational research, Judge Raymond Smith of Lima and Herbert R. Mooney of Columbus, former state welfare director.

They will recommend policy and program to the state welfare director for administration of the school here as well as the boys' industrial school at Lancaster.

CHRYSLER EMPLOYES NEARING DEADLINE

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, May 11—The CIO United Auto Workers today set 9 p. m. Wednesday for a walkout of 75,000 Chrysler corp. employes in the absence of a wage demand settlement.

Meanwhile, government mediators continued talks with company and union negotiators in efforts to head off a strike of workers in 16 plants.

Norman R. Matthews, national UAW-CIO Chrysler director, announced the hour for the strike in only 24 hours remaining to reach an agreement.

Matthews said the union would continue negotiations until 6:30 p. m. (EST) tonight when the UAW representatives must report to the union's 100-man national policy conference.

The conference was called to "set up on a stand-by" basis to receive the Chrysler offer or map future strategy.

Matthews did not role out the possibility of further negotiations with Chrysler following the union report tonight to the conference. Hopes of averting the automobile industry's first major strike in two years rested precariously on mediators' attempts to resolve the UAW's demand for a 30-cent hourly raise and Chrysler's refusal of any increase at all.

Actually, however, the difference standing in the way of an agreement is only 12½ cents. Chrysler offered a six-cent raise several weeks ago but withdrew after the union rejected it. And to meet the proposal, the union scaled its demand down to 18½ cents.

But the company and union never reverted to their original positions. But mediators consider concessions made in negotiations as an indication of willingness to compromise.

GAME REFUGE SET UP IN ORDNANCE AREA

1,000 Acres in Scioto Tract Acquired by State.

News dispatches from Columbus today reported the state conservation commission is planning to take over 1,000 acres in the Scioto Ordnance Plant area for wild life propagation purposes.

The Marion acreage was one of three separate tracts of federally controlled ordnance plant lands in Ohio totaling 11,200 acres the state was contemplating using as game preserves. Other two comprised 1,200 acres at the Plum Brook ordnance plant near Sandusky and 9,000 acres in the Ravenna arsenal lands.

Announcement of the conservation departments plans was made by Commissioner H. A. (Buck) Rider after the senate sent to the White House yesterday a bill authorizing such use of surplus government land. The bill was authorized by Representative Raymond H. Burke, of Hamilton, O. Total cost of the three parcels to the state will be three dollars. The government retains the right to take back the lands immediately in case of an emergency.

It was not indicated what section of the Scioto Ordnance area the conservation department plans to obtain. At the present time approximately 2,700 acres of the area remain under War Assets Administration control, the balance having been acquired by other agencies including the state welfare department, the atomic energy commission and the Ohio National Guard.

COUNCIL ACTS ON 3 PRESSING CITY PROBLEMS

Moving of Offices, New Hospital and Pay Raises Given Attention at Meeting.

Three pressing problems were faced by city council last night: the moving of city hall, a pay raise for service employes, and the city-county hospital problem. Action by council moved all three one step nearer solution.

Council heard two proposed answers to the problem of where to move city hall. The first was that of Councilmen Don R. Biggert, Fourth ward, and C. H. Sanden, Sixth ward. In a letter addressed to William G. Slack, president of council, they reviewed the city hall problem which has remained without a permanent solution, they said, for 125 years. The answer proposed would be the utilization of now unused space in No. 1 fire station on South Prospect street and an addition be built either in the vacant area to the rear of the fire station, or by the addition of a third floor to the fire station building.

The second proposal was a report on the availability and facilities of the building on the southeast corner of North Main and George streets, formerly occupied by the Ward Stillson Co., which was presented by Harold F. Robinson, councilman at large and chairman of the lands and building committee of council.

Dowler's Proposal

A third proposal, offered by Mayor Dowler, was to use the present city hospital building for a city hall in the event a new city - county hospital should be built.

The Biggert - Sanden proposal and the Robinson committee proposal were combined and referred to the building committee on the motion of Newton D. Cunningham, councilman - at - Large. Upon the suggestion of Mayor Dowler the building committee was authorized to confer with an architect on the feasibility and cost of the Biggert-Sansen proposal. The mayor and Council President Slack agreed on the advisability of calling a special meeting of council to confer with the building committee on its findings, before next council meeting. President Slack called for immediate action on the problem saying that council should make some definite move on the relocation of city hall within the next 30 days in view of the present rental of $8,400 a year for quarters now occupied.

Support Proposals

Councilmen Biggert and Sanden in support of their proposal explain that much more space was required for the fire department when horse drawn fire engines were used. This space is now wasted. They do not believe that present space in the firehouse would accommopate all city offices but add there is a 40 by 65 foot vacant lot to the rear of the firehouse. Financing of the firehouse expansion project could be handled by applying the $8,400 per year being paid by the city as rent for the Eagles building. The two councilmen contend that by adding an additional $1,600 per year to the present rent figure the city could have a permanent home in 10 years time and pay no more rent.

In support of the building committee plan of renting the Ward Stillson building Councilman Robinson points out that the building is ready for almost immediate occupancy and can be had for less than half the rental of the present city hall while supplying space for all city facilities under one roof. The belief of Councilman Cunningham is that this building could probably be purchased for less than the estimated $100,000 cost of reconstructing the firehouse on Prospect street.

Councilman Sanden closed the discussion when he stated the city had paid for several city buildings in rents and still had nothing to show for the taxpayers money.

Thirty-five service department employes were on hand last night to hear council give the first reading to four separate ordinances affecting their pay and vacation periods. The motion to suspend the rules and give this legislation the second and third readings lost 6 to 2 with Councilman Smith, First ward, not voting.

Pay Raise Provision

The new service department pay legislation provides for straight increase of 15 cents an hour for all five classes of city service employes. This brings the class A or top paid service employe to an hourly rate of $1.40 if the bill is finally adopted. E. O. Uncapher, safety-service director, said last night that only three city employes are in the class A labor pay bracket; a

Russian Willingness To Improve Relations With U. S. Indicated

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 11 — President Truman said today the American bid to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov for "decent and reasonable relations" between the two countries "represented no new departure in American policy."

Its purpose, Mr. Truman said in a formal statement, was to make it "unmistakably clear that the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs whatsoever with respect to the Soviet Union."

The President's statement did not indicate whether the note of ambassador Walter Bedell Smith to Molotov May 4 might be construed as an American proposal for discussion and settlement of existing differences between the two nations.

The two main points of the statement by Smith, Mr. Truman said, were these:

1 "The policies of the United States government in international questions have been made amply clear in recent months and weeks. They have the support of the overwhelming majority of the American people. They will continue to be vigorously and firmly prosecuted."

2 "On the other hand this government wishes to make it unmistakably clear that the United States has no hostile or aggressive designs whatsoever with respect to the Soviet Union."

In a response Sunday to Smith's statement, Radio Moscow said the Soviet Union is ready to pursue a "policy of peace and cooperation with the United States."

The Soviet further interpreted the Smith note as a bid for "discussion and settlement" with Russia of differences which have split the postwar world.

Molotov Agrees

The Moscow broadcast said Molotov had agreed to the proposal for talks ascribed to the United States.

The state department today disclosed Smith gave Molotov a 500-word oral response to the Soviet foreign minister's reply to the original American note.

At no point in this latest move in Moscow did Smith encourage any hope on the part of the Russians that the American government would enter at this time into negotiations with the Russians for an overall settlement of differences between the two countries.

What Smith said originally was it was hoped to find the basis of a "decent and reasonable relationship" between the Soviets and Americans. He added that "the door is always wide open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

Apparently the state department's purpose in making Smith's latest statement to Molotov public was to try to show that the U. S. is not proposing to compromise its policy at any point in seeking a settlement with Russia.

And since Russia in its note was officially regarded here as a showing no tendency to compromise, American officials said that they had difficulty at this time in trying to discover on what basis a meeting might be usefully held.

No Dates Set

From neither Moscow nor the state department, however, came any hint as to when or how representatives of the two countries might get together. And American diplomatic authorities — veterans of two years of conference table sparring with the Soviet foreign minister — were inclined to extremely cautious optimism.

Moscow characteristically disclosed the latest turn of events and gave its own version. Thereupon the state department early today published a 1,400-word dispatch from Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith detailing a face-to-face approach he made to Molotov a week ago on direct instructions from Secretary Marshall.

What he told Molotov, Smith reported, was the United States holds to its hope for a "decent and reasonable relationship" with Russia—and:

"As far as the United States is concerned, the door is always open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

Molotov Quoted

Molotov, in his formal reply five days later, was quoted by the Russian news agency Tass as saying:

"The Soviet government views favorably the desire of the government of the United States to improve relations as expressed in (Smith's) statement and agrees to the proposal to proceed with this end in view to discussion and settlement of differences existing between us."

Smith's reminder that the door to an American-Soviet conference remains open, followed a bluntly worded declaration that the American people are solidly behind United States policy toward Russia.

Their support and determination will not be weakened by the approaching presidential political campaign, Smith said he told Molotov.

And he added that even if an economic crisis — which Soviet propaganda has pictured as inevitable — should occur in the United States it "would not affect in any way our basic productive capacity, nor our concept of the basic factors underlying our foreign policy."

Smith said American concern over Russia's actions has been intensified by the "inexplicable hostility" of the Soviet government

LIONS PRESENT SCHOOL GIFTS

Devices To Test Hearing of Pupils Turned Over to Officials.

Two audiometers, devices for the purpose of detecting inefficiency in hearing, recently purchased by the Marion Lions club for use in the schools, were formally presented to Marion city and county school officials at the club weekly luncheon meeting Monday at Hotel Harding.

Robert R. Bush, chairman of the club audiometer committee, was in charge of the presentation. Present to receive the machines were the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V.F., who accepted in behalf of the St. Mary Parochial school, Lester L. Dickey, superintendent of the Marion city schools, and D. T. Mills, county schools superintendent.

Accepts for St. Mary

Father Spickerman, in his acceptance talk, expressed his gratification that the city of Marion has such an international organization which is interested in the school pupils. He said he believes that the instruments will do in the schools what the club hopes they will do in aiding children.

Mr. Dickey said he was interested in the amount of research the club went into prior to purchasing the instruments, and said he is grateful to know that a Marion club does so much sight and hearing conservation work. He told the club that the Painesville schools where he was superintendent prior to coming to Marion had an audiometer.

New Slides Presented

A new set of slides for the Keystone Telebinocular machine owned by the Marion county school system was presented to Mr. Mills by Cecil Gabler, chairman of the club sight conservation committee. Mr. Mills, in accepting both the slides and the audiometers in behalf of the county schools, said he is grateful to the club for having recently included the county in its program for sight and hearing conservation, and assured the club members that the county schools would get every bit of use possible out of the instruments.

Bucyrus Man Speaker

Guest speaker was James Kehrer of Bucyrus, Crawford county commissioner. A humorist, Mr. Kehrer spoke on "The Army and Me," relating the background of his Army life. Mr. Kehrer was introduced by John Pickerel, program chairman.

New Cubs present for the meeting were Paul Kohler, Jack Taft, John Schaffner and Harry Haberman. Guests of the club were Lion Bob Sansbury of Canal Winchester, William Beer of Bucyrus, and E. G. Siefert of Marion.

LINE TO BOOST GAS SUPPLIES

Marion To Be Linked to Pipeline from Knox to Allen Counties.

Construction of a new pipeline from the Treat compressor station near Mt. Vernon to Lima will increase facilities for distribution of fuel gas to the Marion and Lima markets, W. T. Shinholser of Columbus, chief engineer of the Ohio Fuel Gas company, said today.

The line, 96 miles in length, will cross Marion county and is scheduled to be completed by Oct. 1, Mr. Shinholser said. Work on the line is getting under way in Allen county and will progress eastward through Marion and Morrow counties.

Construction of the line was said to be a part of the company's program of enlarging and revamping its distribution system resulting from increased demands from industrial, commercial and private users.

Purpose of Line

Two main purposes are to be served by construction of the line, bringing gas to Marion and to Lima, the two largest markets along the 96 mile route, Mr. Shinholser said.

The line will start out as a 20 inch line from the Treat compressor station located near Homer, about 10 miles south of Mt. Vernon in Licking county. At Mt. Gilead a first reduction to a 16 inch line will begin and extend as far west as Green Camp. After the Marion market is cut off, a second reduction to a 12 inch line will extend into Lima. Present facilities serving Marion are eight inch lines.

Although the new line will afford greatly increased distributional facilities, the main problem affecting the supply of fuel gas in the Marion and Lima areas as in others is still that of meeting the demand, Mr. Shinholser pointed out.

In connection with construction of the line, Marion county commissioners today gave permission to the Ohio Fuel Gas company to cross 24 county and township roads in laying the line through the county.

The commissioners required the company to bore under 14 hard surface roads while allowing 10 stone roads to be cut. The company has obtained easements from farmers and property owners whose lands the line will cross. Permission also has been obtained from the state highway department for crossing seven state highways in the county, including Routes 37, 203, 4, 23, 98, 529 and 746.

Abandoned Baby Found in Mansfield

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., May 11—Dark haired, blue-eyed baby boy was left yesterday in a parked car belonging to Mrs. Levina Gaster, head bookkeeper at General hospital.

A note gave his name as Wendell Stevens, born April 15. His mother, the note said, could not support him and wished to have him adopted.

Miss Gayle Rife, night superintendent, said that less than a half-hour after the child's discovery, "half a dozen doctors, and at least that many nurses wanted to adopt him."

The boy weighs 9 pounds, 6 ounces, and is perfectly formed and healthy.

Club Makes Final Plans For Casting Tourney

Final preparations are underway for the annual Lions club bait casting tournament to be held Saturday, May 15, at the McKinley park lake in which fishermen from Marion and vicinity will be given an opportunity to test their skill in bait and fly casting, both for distance and for accuracy.

A floating pier for the tournament has been constructed by the club members and was installed and tested at the lake Monday night. Members of the club working on the pier committee are Robert Ruth, Gerald Schlueter and Robert Haldeman.

Rules for the four events of the tournament have been formulated and will be announced in The Star Wednesday night.

The tournament will get under way at 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Anyone wishing to enter is to register at McKinley lake the day of the contest between 1 p. m. and 2:30. No registration fee is charged and no entry blanks are necessary.

CITY HOSPITAL PLANS PUBLIC RECEPTION

Open House To Be Held for Public Tomorrow.

Plans are being completed today for the observance of National Hospital Day, Wednesday, at the City hospital.

While the observance will not be on as large a scale as in prewar years, the management and staff will join with other hospitals throughout the nation in a fitting tribute to Florence Nightingale. Cooperating with the hospital in the day's observance will be members of the Woman's Board of the Marion City hospital.

Persons interested in the operation of the hospital may visit the institution tomorrow and will be shown through the building with the exception of the maternity ward.

Two tours have been arranged, one at 2:30 p. m. and the other at 3:30 p. m. Tea will be served during these hours by members of the hospital board.

National Hospital day was observed at the City hospital for many years and was discontinued through the World War II years because of the emergency and pressing duties of the staff.

AVERT WALKOUT AT CHICAGO STOCKYARDS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 11—A threatened strike of 400 CIO stockhandlers at the world's largest stockyards in Chicago was averted last night, four hours before the 12:01 a. m. strike deadline.

Frank Monaghan, president of local 44 CIO Stockhandlers union, which claims 400 members, said the union had accepted a new contract which provides for a wage increase of six cents an hour.

Monaghan said the pay raises were retroactive to last April 4. He said the stockhandlers, who load, unload, weigh and drive cattle to and from the pens and chutes within the stockyards, averaged about $1.05 hourly under the old contract.

The union is affiliated with the CIO Packinghouse Workers union which has been on strike since March 16 in a dispute over wages with the major packers.

ROYALL TO PICK BOARD TO HELP HIM RUN ROADS

Will Be Chosen from Unions, Management; Operations in Full Swing Today.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 11—Army Secretary Royall, boss of the railroads under government operation, said today he will name a union-management advisory board to help him run them.

Royall reported to a news conference the roads are operating in normal fashion. Bans against shipment of perishable goods—such as livestock and fresh produce—were lifted. Most railroads put on such bans last weekend because of the strike called by three operating brotherhoods for 6 a. m. (local railroad time) today.

While Royall was talking with reporters at the Pentagon building, leaders of the three unions were holding their own news conference at a downtown hotel. The main points they made:

►Only a wage settlement can entirely remove the possibility of a rail strike. Arthur J. Glover, president of the Switchmen's union, said emphatically that the anti-strike court order secured by the government was what stopped a walkout; seizure of the roads alone would not have stopped a strike.

►They are looking now to Royall to settle their wage dispute. David B. Robertson, head of the Firemen and Enginemen, said "these carriers (railroad management) are out of the picture."

►They hold considerable resentment because of the government's moves. Glover said: "Now management knows that every time they get in a dog fight the government will step in and act as a strike breaking agent."

Concessions Reported

Alvanley Johnston, chief of the Engineers, said the union men made many concessions in the long and fruitless White House negotiations for a settlement. Among other things, he said, they agreed to recommend that their members accept a 13½ cents an hour wage increase. That was proposed by a presidential fact-finding board and first rejected by the unions. The White House negotiations broke down over questions of operating rules. Most of these rules affect the amount of take home pay the train crews get.

The three union leaders said they are waiting to hear from Royall what he proposes about the wage dispute. They were to confer with him at 2 p. m.

Royall told his news conference that for the time being the Army will make no attempt to settle the dispute.

He said he has asked rail unions to suggest men from their ranks to sit with representatives of rail management on an advisory group to help him during the period of government operation.

Program Outlined

Royall gave this account of the Army's proposed operating methods:

He has set up seven railroad regions and put each in command of a civilian railroad president. All were made army colonels, will get a colonel's pay and must give up their railroad pay.

The Army intends only to supervise rail operations, leaving details to the carriers themselves.

"We will extend our authority only as far as necessary to operate them expeditiously and efficiently.

"We certainly do not want to get into details of operations unless it becomes necessary."

Asked if Railroad personnel would be subject to military control, Royall replied they would not.

Asked how profits would be handled, he said they would be dealt with as they are today.

The railway brotherhoods called the strike off reluctantly late last night, in obedience to a court order thrown at them by Justice T. Alan Goldsborough. Goldsborough is the federal judge who twice fined John L. Lewis for disobeying court orders.

But the long and bitter railroad case is not ended.

8-Day Injunction

Goldsborough's "temporary restraining order" (a type of injunction) expires May 19, eight days from today. The judge set a hearing for that date on the government's request for a longer injunction. The three unions will have their chance then to fight back.

There were other question marks too.

President Truman had to seize the railroads to ward off the strike. The Army thus found itself in technical possession of the country's immense network of railroads.

How would it deal with the unions?

When could it turn the prop-

Jesse Foust, chairman of the improvement committee, was toastmaster.

C. F Flickinger, field representative of the Columbus Producers, presented the summary of the pools showing 7,583 sheep and lambs marketed. There were 293 consigners, an increase of eight over the previous year.

C W. Hammans, extension marketing specialist of Ohio State university, gave an optimistic outlook for the lamb business over the next five years, stating that there were fewer sheep in the three county area than since the Civil War. The sheep population in this area has declined 64 per cent since 1940, according to the census.

L K. Bear, extension animal husbandman, gave an interesting account of a trip he had made with a group of sheepmen to the Chicago Stockyards and followed the lambs through the wholesale and retail market in the large eastern seaboard cities where the lamb is consigned. He gave the problem of the packer, processor and retailer from the consumers' viewpoint, and stressed the point that quality of the lamb product is what sells the meat over the counter.

L E Kunkle, in charge of meats instruction at Ohio State university, gave a meat cutting demonstration using a prime and commercial lamb carcass to show the difference in quality and the value of the cuts of meat.

Directors elected for 1948 are Fred Seegar, Marion County; Ray VanSickle and Marion Shilliger, Delaware county; S G Hildebrand, Kenneth Mosier and Jack Showalter from Morrow county.

SUBMIT MANY SCHOOL NAMES

Wide Variety of Proposals Made to Board of Education.

A wide range of suggested names for the new junior high school scheduled to go up next year on North State street was revealed when results of the request for public opinion on what name should be given the building were tabulated by city school officials.

Although only 20 persons took the time to send in their choice, names received included in addition to the often used McKinley, Lincoln, Harding and Roosevelt, several that were not so common.

One of these was Norman Thomas, Socialist party candidate for president and native of Marion. Another was Florence Kling who became Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

Current events apparently influenced one Marion resident. Her choice was Breneman after the famous master of ceremonies of the "Breakfast in Hollywood" radio show. News of his death was carried on the front page of the Marion Star the day before the school name story appeared.

Of the suggested names sent in, Roosevelt led as the choice of six persons. Eber Baker, popular choice of school students, received four votes, while Lincoln drew three. Seven others including the above mentioned unusual names, got a vote each.

Results of the public opinion poll and the poll of school pupils will be made available to the city board of education when final consideration is given to selecting a name for the new school.

A decision on the name may not be made right away as there is plenty of time yet, Lester L. Dickey, schools superintendent, pointed out today. One of the reasons why interest came up at this time was from a request by the architects to have a name to designate in their plans for the school, he explained.

Velazquez, a Spanish artist died in 1600. But did not become famous until 200 years later.

DECISION LIFTS RACIAL BAN

U. S. Court Overturns Ohio Ruling on Limiting Use of Church Property.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 11—The supreme court overturned 6-0 Monday, an Ohio court decision which limited use of a certain property in Columbus to white persons.

This striking-down of a "restrictive covenant" on use of property was in line with the court's decisions of a week ago. By the same line-up, the justices then ruled that courts could not enforce real estate agreements which barred persons because of race or color.

The justice department since has said the decision covered restrictive pacts based on religious creed as well.

A parallel case was brought from California and by the same 6-0 finding returned for further consideration by the California supreme court. It involved use of houses purchased in Los Angeles by two persons of Chinese and Korean ancestry.

(The high tribunal on May 3 declared state and federal courts may not enforce restrictive real estate agreements which bar persons from use of property because of race or color. Justices Reed, Jackson and Rutledge took no part in the May 3 decision. They also eliminated themselves from consideration of the two orders issued today.)

Ruled Valid In Ohio

An Ohio district court of appeals declared valid and enforceable in agreement intended to bar non-Caucasians from use of property in the neighborhood of 93 E. 10 Ohio avenue, Columbus.

Residents of the neighborhood had asked the courts to prevent the Rev. L. L. Dickerson, Negro pastor of the Mount Olive Church of Christ from occupying a home at 93 North Ohio. The congregation had bought the residence as a place of worship.

Lower courts held that while neighborhood restrictive covenant could own the property, the court of restraining order against enforcement of such covenant from occupancy of the court order for Mr. Dickerson to reside was suspended pending settlement of the litigation.

The church itself is in another neighborhood.

The high tribunal action in the California cases was on appeals by Tom D. Amer, who said he is of Chinese ancestry, and by Yim Kun, who said he is descended from Koreans. They protested against enforcement of agreements which provide that persons not of the Caucasian race may not occupy the premises involved, except in the capacity of servants.

The supreme court's May 3 ruling prevented enforcement of covenants on properties in St. Louis, Detroit and Washington, D. C.

The court announced it hopes to adjourn for the summer on Tuesday, June 1. It has more than 10 cases pending for decision.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

MARY rose quickly at my ultimatum, and the next minute saw us in my bedroom with the door closed, and both of us seated opposite each other.

"Aunt Madge," she said fearfully. "What's happened? From what Uncle Dick said, I thought you had been treated to a gorgeous farce. I didn't think there was anything behind it."

"There isn't," I told her promptly. "But I don't want to tell the story to the rest, without your consent, and your knowing a little bit about what I'm going to say. In the first place Georges had a fixed conviction that your breakdown was caused by your frustrated love for him, and although he professes to love Olina dearly, he was determined to postpone the wedding, incidentally telling her the reason until he could learn from your own lips that you did not love him."

Mary's eyes were so wide with astonishment that I wondered how she kept them in place.

"No!" she said at last. "Not even Georges could think up one like that!"

"But he did," I told her. "He not only told me but he gave out the knowledge to your uncle as well. Incidentally, it was your uncle who finally convinced him of his error."

But Mary was beyond speech for the moment. She was bent double with uncontrollable laughter, peal after peal of it until I began to fear hysteria. Then suddenly she sat erect and wiped her eyes.

"I'll bet Uncle Dick convinced him," she gasped, "with the toe of his shoe, or a reasonable facsimile thereof. Is he going to be good, now?"

"At my last sight of him he was giving a fairly good imitation of an angel," I said and Mary giggled.

"How I'd have loved to see him!" she said. "Now see here, what's your difficulty? D've think I'm going to be covered with maidenly blushes and confusion, if you tell this yarn before Uncle Dicky, who knows all about it and before Aunt Katrina and the Underwoods, who know Georges and all his vagaries?"

"I didn't know," I said defensively. "I wanted you to be prepared."

"Well, I am," she said. "After that atom bomb you just hurled, I'm inured to anything. And let's look at the thing sensibly."

She paused and fitted her fingertips together.

"In the first place," she said, "everybody out there knows that Georges hasn't stirred my pulses a tenth of a heartbeat since that summer time long ago. In the second place, they all know Georges. In the third place, why should you have to go through the recital more than once?"

"That's what I told your uncle," I said. "He doesn't know all the things which Georges spouted."

"It probably would take two heavy books to hold them all," she said. "So you see how right I am. And I don't mind an audience in the least, now that you've given me the high lights. There's just one thing. Noel and Olina won't have to know this latest explosion of temperament on Georges' part, will they?"

"Absolutely not," I said, emphatically.

"I'll tell Noel something, but I do hope Georges doesn't have any twinges of conscience in the future," she went on. "Postponing the wedding until he got his conscience about me straightened out! No girl could pardon that. There would have been no wedding."

"That's what I told Georges," I said, and her eyes suddenly showed speculation.

"I'm wondering," she said and stopped.

"Wondering what?" I asked although I was fairly sure that I knew what was going on behind her eyes.

"Wondering whether or not we ought to tell Olina," she said. "It's a shame to let her go on and marry a colossal adorer like Georges."

Horseback riding is also within the capacity of many older children who have leg paralysis.

If there is some weakness of the shoulder muscles, it is still possible to play golf. In such cases, the muscular power is secured from the wrist and forearms.

It is suggested that the best time for a child to learn to swim is between the ages of six and seven years, but often four-year-old children can be taught to swim although their legs are partially paralyzed.

Of course, it is necessary for many of these children to use splints or so-called walking irons at times. Such a walking iron may be unobjectionable around the house, but, in some cases, may be discarded when the child goes to school and is with other children. Such a procedure is often helpful in keeping the child from feeling too different from his playmates.

The child who has had infantile paralysis and has lost the use of some of his muscles should be under the care of an orthopedic specialist who will outline suitable treatment in each case.

Questions and Answers

Answer: I have outlined some suggestions concerning the nervous child who will not eat which I shall be glad to send you if you will write again, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

There are ten thousand different species of jellyfish.

4 Arrests Reported On Traffic Charges

Two arrests for traffic violations were reported by city police today while an equal number were reported by highway patrolmen.

Charles H. Prichard, 23, of Van Wert was arrested on a charge of speeding on Delaware avenue at 11:16 a. m. Sunday. He posted a bond of $25 for his appearance in municipal court Monday morning where he entered a plea of guilty and was fined $15 and costs by Judge Hazen.

Richard Eugene Deitsch of 863 Congress street was arrested at 12:10 a. m. Sunday on West Center street and booked by city police on two charges; reckless driving and insufficient brakes. His car was held as bond for his appearance in municipal court. Upon arraignment before Judge Hazen he entered a plea of guilty and was fined $15 and costs.

State patrolmen reported the arrest late Saturday night of Mabel Osborn, 24, of Columbus for failing to obey a stop sign at the intersection of routes 42 and 61 near Mt. Gilead.

Milfred Fryock, 39, of Mansfield was arrested Sunday afternoon on a similar charge at the same intersection. Each was fined $5 and costs by Mayor Roy Bennington of Mt. Gilead after pleading guilty to the charges.

No Legal Differences

FROM the standpoint of law, there is no such thing as a second class citizen of the United States. The U.S. supreme court has affirmed this in three decisions that barred restrictive covenants on use of property. Two of the decisions were handed down this week, the third one the preceding week.

There still remains, of course, the sociological and economic problems that arise from property use. The supreme court is not concerned with these. Its concern is solely with the proper interpretation of the Constitution of the United States. There are no legal differences in the status of bona fide residents of the United States.

In that respect it has ruled that documents which restrict certain persons in the exercise of property rights because of color or creed have no legal standing. No other decision is possible within the spirit and letter or Constitutional law. The Constitution cannot regulate the actions of individuals insofar as prejudice is concerned, but it can deny such action the use of the cloak of legality. The supreme court has cleared away all doubt on that point.

Harry Truman on the Stump

IN ANOTHER month, if all goes well, Harry Truman will be stump-jumping through Illinois, Nebraska, Washington, Oregon and California on one of the strangest tours ever arranged for a chief executive of the United States.

The purpose of Mr. Truman's June journey will be to pull together the disorganized elements of the Democratic party in advance of its nominating convention in July. His theory is that this herculean task can be done by giving party members a chance to see and hear their nominal leader at close range—and perhaps to discover that weaknesses they have been blaming on him are not his but theirs.

Mr. Truman has been made a kind of referee in bankruptcy over the collapse of one of the two major political parties. The bankruptcy can be traced to events from 1933 to Franklin D. Roosevelt's nomination for a fourth term in 1944, a period in which party responsibility was suspended. Mr. Roosevelt held together his New Deal coalition by personal influence; the party organization withered on the vine. When Mr. Roosevelt died, his successor did not inherit a political party but a weird assortment of dissident minorities whose bickering and throat-cutting have been Mr. Truman's toughest political problem. He is virtually assured of the Democratic nomination, but unless he can reorganize the party its nomination won't be worth having. He is reaping the whirlwind sowed in politics by personal government at the expense of party responsibility—a whirlwind that left the Democratic party stripped of leadership below the level of the White House.

Settling Jurisdictional Tieups

IN THE public view, one of the most inexcusable types of labor trouble has been the jurisdictional dispute. The building industry has suffered more from it than most.

To halt these deadlocks, some of which have persisted for months, a board has been set up by the AFL construction unions, the employers and an impartial chairman, John T. Dunlop, a widely-known labor arbitrator. The board estimates it can reach a decision in any dispute in 10 days. Parties to the agreement will comply with its decisions.

The Taft-Hartley act clause outlawing jurisdictional disputes contributes the necessary impetus for the formation of this board. It should stand as an example to other industries afflicted by jurisdictional tieups.

Prosperity in the South

SINCE 1941, the so-called backward states have been prospering as never before. A tax foundation survey shows that some have larger tax revenues than states generally thought of as more wealthy.

For instance, Connecticut collected $61,718,000 in 1947 while Mississippi collected $69,237,000. Iowa, in an era of unequaled farm prosperity, collected less taxes than Oklahoma and Louisiana, both of which have smaller populations. Florida's tax revenues exceeded Minnesota's, and North Carolina's were larger than Indiana's. Tax revenues of "poor" states have increased 93 per cent in the last six years while the national average rose 58 per cent.

It's true that tax revenue and living standards aren't the same. The South has a long way to go before its schools, roads and other facilities are up to the standards of the North, but these figures indicate the day is coming when federal gratuities and subventions can be ended—unless the habit of turning to Washington for aid has become so strong it can't be broken.

Wampum, beads made from shells and the medium of exchange for the North American Indians, took its value from its color. Dark wampum made from the hardshell clam was the most valuable.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

Relation of ERP to Newsprint Supply.

LORD ROTHERMERE recently raised the question of more newsprint for Great Britain. Certainly one of the most serious shortages in all the world is that of paper. If the truth is to be known to the people, there should be a great many newspapers, magazines and all sorts of vehicles of expression. The shortage of newsprint gives a tremendous advantage to those who are plentifully supplied, particularly governments, and handicaps those in the opposition. Lord Rothmere raised sharply the issue that if we wish to agitate for our theories of a free society in Europe, then the European newspapers, particularly the British, must have more newsprint.

SOKOLSKY

Unfortunately, most of the newsprint today comes from Canada — one country. Newsprint from Finland and Scandinavia is scarce and the price is foul. Even the Canadian price is out of line and in the United States some newspapers are forced to buy in the black market at impossible prices to keep going at all. Some of the British newspapers own mills in Canada but they have no dollars to pay for what they get there. They criticize the American newspapers for using too much, but it seems that that is immaterial, for their complaint thus far has only been that they lack the dollars to buy in Canada. Now they expect to get the dollars from Paul Hoffman, head of ECA, alias ERP.

In a period of shortage, therefore, it will be the American dollar, taken from our taxes, that will produce an increased newsprint scarcity for the American newspaper. The increase for Great Britain from Canada and Newfoundland will be 33,000 tons per year, paid for out of ERP dollar balances, and while it is likely that American newspapers may not complain too much about that, there is a fear that this is only a beginning, with other ERP countries making similar demands. Americans would like to know precisely how these dollar balances, which we are handing to Europe as a gift, will be used.

Distribution Estimates

In an official statement, Paul Hoffman "disclosed that figures obtained from official Canadian sources indicate newsprint production in Canada and Newfoundland during 1948 will be approximately 1,875,000 tons, of which 225,000 tons will be consumed in Canada. Shipments to the United States are expected to be 3,960,000 tons. The proposed shipments to the United Kingdom from Canada and Newfoundland will be about three per cent of the dominion's output for the next fiscal year."

It seems that much of this problem could be solved if the trade between Great Britain and Scandinavia could be stimulated by an exchange of British coal for Scandinavian pulpwood. England has a machine capacity to produce between 900,000 and 1,000,000 tons of newsprint annually. Of this capacity, about 700,000 tons is lying idle, because the British are unable to purchase pulpwood, which used to come mostly from Russia, Poland and Scandinavia.

Before the war, Great Britain used 1,325,000 tons, of which they imported 375,000 from Canada and Newfoundland. If they put their present idle machinery to work, they could easily fill that amount. Today the British only consume 325,000 tons of newsprint and the impression is general that that reduction in consumption, while the machinery is idle, is not unrelated to Socialist politics.

More Economical Method

They could obtain the pulpwood from Canada and Newfoundland for their newsprint mills at a cheaper cost than newsprint from the same countries. Thus far, the British government has not encouraged the import of pulpwood. In fact, Sir Eric Bowater, largest manufacturer of newsprint paper in the world, also admitted on March 11, 1948, in the annual report to his company.

It will be a serious mistake for Great Britain or any ERP country to use American money to compete with American newspapers for the supply of this essential but scare commodity. It will create suspicion over all ERP arrangements. It is starting off with the wrong foot. Much sounder would be the import of pulpwood to put the idle British mills to work. Why should any mills be idle when there is such a shortage in this commodity and when pulpwood is available? Now that dollars can be used—our dollars—they ought to buy the wood and let their own machines produce the paper they truly require.

Profession and Performance

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

IT IS about time to take a second look at the portrait of the President officially painted for the world. This portrait depicts a man whose reverses have caused him to forget politics, and to think only of the job in hand. The President, it is said, is running for reelection by tending exclusively to the national knitting, without any of those little compromises, dodges or special arrangements which are customary when politicians have their eyes on the ballot boxes.

Joseph Alsop

Unfortunately, the record is not in accord with the portrait, as three recent incidents, all in spheres of vital policy making, all too clearly indicate. The most recent of these incidents was the appointment of Major General John H. Hilldring as "special adviser to the secretary of state on Palestine."

Since the shift in American policy on Palestine, the American Zionists have conducted a powerful double drive, to secure the dismissal of officials in the state department whom they regard as enemies, and the appointment of men they consider friendly. They were within their rights in so doing. The President was equally within his rights in desiring that one of his Palestine advisory staff should command the confidence of the Jewish leaders.

The way in which Hilldring was named, however is reminiscent of the most unfortunate earlier presidential ventures in free-wheeling policy making. Long prior to the appointment of General Hilldring, the White House proposed to Secretary of State George C. Marshall that Hilldring be brought back into the state department. Both Marshall and Under Secretary Robert Lovett showed little enthusiasm, tactfully expressing doubts as to Hilldring's availability because of his poor health. So far as they knew, nothing further was being done in the matter.

Saw It In Paper

Yet meanwhile emissaries of the White House, among whom David K. Niles apparently figured, were independently urging Hilldring to accept the post. In the end, Hilldring gave his consent; his appointment was gazetted, and Secretary Marshall and Under Secretary Lovett learned they had acquired a new Palestine adviser from the morning paper.

Delicate negotiations to secure at least a temporary Arab-Jewish truce in Palestine were then in progress. Only one point remained in dispute. Probably no truce could in the end have been secured, since there was inevitably sharp disagreement on this remaining point in dispute, which was the extent of Jewish immigration during the truce period. In any case, the Hilldring appointment had an immediate adverse effect on this effort. The last, admittedly very faint hope of truce was killed by this new spasm of the administration's schizophrenia on Palestine.

It is of course within the President's power to alter American Palestine policy again. Certainly the present hideous and dangerous mess is all but impossible to defend. The trouble is that Palestine policy, such as it is, has not really been changed by the Hilldring appointment. The net result of the appointment, or rather of the method of the appointment, has merely been to create the impression of fuzziness, lack of will and uncertainty of purpose. Nothing could have been more risky. Nothing could have been more unjust to Secretary Marshall. And in the last analysis, nothing could have been more unjust to the Zionists, who have simply been thrown a political sop in the form of Hilldring, and have thus been encouraged to feel false hopes.

In a rather different way, the President's awareness of what is often wrongly regarded as practical politics has also lately been manifested in the conduct of the European cooperation administration. The first effort of the White House was to name a Democrat—almost any Democrat—to the administrator's post now occupied by Paul Hoffman. This was frustrated by Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who insisted on the choice of Hoffman. The President's strong feelings about ECA appointments were further disclosed after Hoffman had been chosen and confirmed. The White House tried to induce Hoffman to take nominees of its own for several key jobs, including that of European ambassador - at - large now occupied by Averell Harriman. And when Hoffman proposed as his deputy administrator one of the ablest members of the President's own sub-cabinet, Under Secretary of Commerce William Foster, the President replied that he would not appoint any more Republicans.

The Hand Writing Is on the Marquee

Gael Sullivan has resigned as executive director of the Democratic national committee to accept a $50,000 a year post in the theater industry.

Not only is the pay better, but also his new employer's prospects for the future are brighter.

In his new job he will promote thousands of artists . . . and not just one piano player.

Of course, his nightmares will still be filled with balconies, but empty rather than political ones.

And it will be a relief to have nothing more important to worry about than people sticking chewing gum up under the seats.

Inevitably, some Democrats will criticize Mr. Sullivan for deserting the party at this time. But I don't blame him: After all, it's only the captain who is supposed to go down with the ship.

Putting the Bite on Us

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, May 11, 1938.

Ohio with a population of more than 6,600,000 had 233,500 on the WPA roll and headed the list of states in giving employment to unemployed men and women, according to figures in Columbus.

Charging that billions of dollars had been spent by the New Deal in building up a patronage system used for "rubber stamping" congress, Judge Arthur H. Day of the Ohio supreme court, candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator, urged a return to representative, American government at a Republican meeting in Central Junior High schools.

Mrs. Bertha Williams of LaRue, deputy for District No. 7, conducted an inspection of the work of Canby Temple No. 152, Pythian Sisters.

Forrest "Chick" Godden of Climax, Colo., arrived for a visit with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Stoll of Mt. Vernon avenue. The visit was his first to his home town in 19 years.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Friday, May 11, 1928.

Walter Hagen won the British open golf championship at Sandwich.

Mrs. E. A. Seffner of South State street returned from Akron, where she had been called by the death of her brother, Ralph B. Frank.

Miss Stella Beicher, social service worker in New York City, was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beicher of Pearl street.

Michael Mochel, 86, died at the home of his son, M. M. Mochel at Cardington.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carder of Cherry street were hosts to the Les Flores club.

Aid for United Europe

By Walter Lippmann

"BUT our aim here," said Mr. Churchill to the Congress of Europe, "is not confined to western Europe. We seek nothing less than all Europe."

Is this a dream? Or is it an aim which responsible governments in Europe can take seriously, and which this country can support?

If we think of the unification of Europe in terms of a federal union comparable with our own in its integration and centralization of authority, we cannot, I think, in any near future expect to see it achieved. Even the Benelux nations have not yet in fact resolved the disparities of their currencies and their prices and terms of trade. The British dilemma, as between their role in Europe and their interests in the Commonwealth and Empire, is not in sight of being resolved. The sense of a common European destiny is indeed thin and abstract as between the progressive countries of northern Europe, the Scandinavians, the Dutch and the Belgians on the one hand and on the other the countries of the Balkan and Iberian Peninsulas.

LIPPMANN

Nevertheless, once every allowance has been made for the divisions, there is almost certainly a deep and growing feeling all over the continent that somehow all of Europe has a common interest in becoming an independent great power in the world. It is to this feeling that Mr. Churchill, with his genius for discerning the reality of things, addressed himself. It is the feeling, of course, that the domination of Europe, or of any large part of it, by Russia is in the end intolerable: that it would be intolerable even if Russia were not Communist, even if Russia were not a police state.

Eastern Europe

Though it is impossible to prove it, I think it is true that in eastern Europe—I am thinking particularly of Poland and Czechoslovakia—the greatest and strongest and most genuine sentiment is not pro-Communism or anti-Communism but nationalism, rooted in religion and in history, which causes almost all Poles and Czechs to identify their patriotism with membership in the community of Europe. The issue is deeper than whether industries shall be nationalized or the land redistributed, far deeper than whether they shall remain within the Russian diplomatic orbit. It is whether the regime of their lives shall conform with what they are and have been throughout their history—nations belonging to European civilization and not to an alien civilization which has had its center in Byzantium, St. Petersburg, and Moscow.

But it is not only this feeling that Russia is an intruder in Europe which possesses the nations of Europe. In a different way they feel also that their dependence upon America for sustenance, rehabilitation and protection is, however necessary today, in the long run intolerable. If they cannot be slaves to Russian despotism neither can they be clients of the American republic. We must welcome that feeling, which is general in Europe, and most emphatic among those Europeans with whom we are most closely associated. If this feeling did not exist, the best hope of the European Recovery Program would be doomed to frustration.

New Battlefield

The unifying sentiment of the Europeans is not Socialism or anti-Communism but the will to be masters in their own continent, to be independent again, and to be not the stakes of Soviet-American diplomacy—but to be a power in their own right in order to decide the fate of Europe and the destiny of the world. This sentiment, which springs from their dignity and the remembrance of their historic greatness, is fortified today by the fear that if they do not intervene in the diplomatic struggle, their continent will become a battlefield on which non-European powers fight a ruinous war.

If this is indeed the sentiment in Europe, what is the chief difficulty about arousing it to action? It is the memory of Hitler's attempt to unify Europe under Nazi domination. The great task of the Congress of Europe, and of its leaders like Mr. Churchill, is to prove that Germany can be taken into the European community. They have to prove that to the Poles and the Czechs and also to the west Europeans.

"United Europe," said Mr. Churchill, "provides the only solution" of the German question—how to restore the life of Germany safely for the rest of Europe. Mr. Churchill did not on this occasion specify how this was to be done. But on other occasions he has. The solution of the German question is the admission of the German states, loosely confederated but not under a unified central government, into the larger federation of Europe.

The Little Morrissey Sails Again

("The late Captain Bob Bartlett's [illegible] Arctic schooner, Effie M. Morrissey, 'The Morrissey,' has been bought by Mrs [illegible] Rosary Mendes of New Bedford, Mass., [illegible] discloned as a sailing ship and will be [illegible] the packet trade to the Cape Verde Isl[illegible]—News item.)

As Captain Bob would like it,
His old ship sails anew
As through a resurrection,
Her stout masts tall and true:
She seemed to fail and wither
When old Bob crossed the bar,
But once again she rises
To set course by a star.

II

Each year she sailed northward
And thought it mere child's play
To pierce the Arctic ice fields
The hard and bitter way:
Fame did she know and fully,
A rough, tough Polar queen,
As pictures and the papers
Proclaimed where she had been.

III

Her skipper's voice describing
"Th' Little Morrissey"
Oft echoed through the airwaves
With stout vitality:
Affection deep and lasting
Was ever in his tone:
No lady knew more love than
In Skipper Bob's eyes shone.

IV

He'd picked her for her beauty
Of line and fiber, too,
And fashioned her devoutly
To challenge and come through'
More than one death she skirted
To battle on and win
Against the dark bleak perils—
And scoot for home again!

V

When scientific sagas
No longer were routine,
The old gal helped the young 'uns
To know the waters green:
Each season Captain Robert
Would take some kids along
To taste some tall adventure
And make their spirit strong.

VI

No rugged Arctic passage
She'll know, and well she rates
The routine to the Verdes
Where dream's fulfillment waits:
Now green, warm islands beckon...
A new dress shall she don
And know a life less trying
To old gals getting on.

L'ENVOI

So when she weighs her anchor
And goes from Bedford port
I'll see a figure hurry,
Of breath a little short,
To signal in elation
"Th' Little Morrissey"
And cry in tones familiar,
"HEY, EFFIE, WAIT FOR ME!"

Tell me that I am not dreaming—
Say the story isn't so
That a superdooper luncheon
Near the Roosevelt shrine will go!
Where is reverence, I prithee—
Where the spirit of a shrine
In a blue-plate-special motif
Where the dusty tourists dine?

II

Say it's all a baseless story—
Blame it on some Tory heel—
Say the GOP has done it—
Only scotch it, I appeal;
Let no red hot kitchen perfumes
Sweep across the hallowed air
And no clatter loud of dishes
Jar the silent acres there!

III

Hot dogs, sandwiches and chowders ..
Steaming specials of the day!
Must they flourish where a leader
Loved the spell of boyhood's day?
Cars and picnickers and kiddies—
Meat trucks, trailers, gas clouds blue ..
Sleep, oh, Franklin, sleep and sweetly—
IT'S A GOOD TRICK IF YOU DO!

At Ease, Professor!

By TRUMAN TWILL

One of the things that make Ike Eisenhower easy to like is his apparent inability to play superman. When he got to Columbia the other day to take charge of that highbrow institution he admitted he was scared silly of making a fool of himself, the same as any of the rest of us would feel.

It was a perfectly natural reaction for a customer who had done most of his studying at military academies, war colleges and tank schools. And it was confessed in the manner that is considerably more than half the charm of the man who was picked out of the air, so to speak, to boss the Allied forces in the European theater of operations in World War II and never let it go to his head.

What the most popular militarist since pre-Civil War days probably hasn't thought about yet is the condition of a couple hundred members of the Columbia faculty as their affairs are placed in the hands of a man who won fame for great deeds. They're the ones who are scared silly.

Nothing embarrasses an intellectual like a man of action. The dynamic personalities that go with big executives have the same effect on academicians as bombardments of nuclear energy. Their brains turn to green cheese and their hands get clammy. They seek refuge in the jargon of their trade, thus adding to the bad impression that professors make when they behave like professors.

The poor fellows have two strikes on them. They're never allowed to forget that men of action are their superiors. The men of action do all the hiring and firing. They round up the cash money to buy the scholars' groceries and school room supplies. They determine what the working conditions should be and if one gets too smart they cut him down to size. The intellectuals of higher learning have no more sense of self-reliance than children.

What they crave is a pat on the head and someone to reassure them that they are important even if they can't pile up fortunes manufacturing gadgets, or fame leading the invasion of Europe and the battle against Hitlerism. They want to be told that someone understands their problems, including the one about how to get a fair return from ideas that men of action borrow without signing any receipts. It doesn't matter whose ivy shelters them, the professional highbrows who pull down less than a mechanic's wage need to know that someone loves 'em even though they never met a payroll or made a historic decision. If Ike Eisenhower thinks he's scared, he'd better tell his Columbia scholars to stand at ease before the tension unbalances their fevered minds.

Roving Reports

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — One of the men who did the honors for the late Queen Marie of Romania on her American visit was the ship news photographer who said:

"Could she put a little more leg, please?"

And the shutters clicked—and the American people were given the first visiting members of royalty human enough to show her pretty gams. Purple cheesecake was something new.

Hal Boyle

Just as astute a job of publicity for the king and queen of England was managed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he served them hot dogs at Hyde Park. Some son of "the empahre" may have wriggled at the photographs, but every American who had ever forked over a nickel for a frankfurter—those were the good old days—put down the king and queen as cousins.

Today few people with a message to the public shun the camera. Its silent eloquence sometimes can do more than the spoken word in getting public sympathy.

WHAT CONVINCED more people that the elder John D. Rockefeller was a kindly old man with generous principles? His multi-million dollar bequests? Or pictures showing him handing out dimes to eager youngsters?

Did Socialist Norman Thomas' talk at Newark emphasize the importance of free speech as much as the picture showing him erect, eyes closed, taking a spattering egg in the face? Who remembers what financier J. P. Morgan said at the senate hearing? Very few. Who remembers the chuckle-filled picture of the lady midget plumped in his lap there? Practically everyone who saw it.

For pictures have a never-failing appeal to the human mind, an appeal often stronger than words. People quarrel and praise with words, but when they think of each other it is usually in terms of pictures.

THIS HAS GIVEN a new status to the news photographer, who lives by the old Chinese proverb, "a picture is worth ten thousand words."

His camera can't take the advance gamble out of a horse race or a political campaign. But it can tell beyond a quibble which horse won. And sometimes it can foretell which man will win.

A campaign picture by a photographer you never heard of may crystallize your preference and lead you to say:

"I like him. That's the man for me."

Coolidge posed for pictures wearing an Indian headdress. They looked ridiculous, but the average reaction was, "he wants to show he's a good guy." Herbert Hoover's best pictures have been taken since he left the White House. He relaxed. Photographers say that too often as president he drew a line beyond which they couldn't go. As a result the pictures became monotonously alike. They lacked warmth.

Today all presidential candidates have adopted the policy of Franklin Roosevelt and the late Mayor La Guardia, voted by camera men as the most photogenic political personalities of recent years.

"WE CAN SNAP THEM as we see them," said Harry Harris, president of the New York Photographers association.

"We don't like a lens louse anymore than we do a guy who hides from a camera. All we want is for them to be natural and let us shoot the pictures as they come. That shows them to the people exactly as they are."

And every candidate is cooperating? Why not? If they take a picture of him kissing one baby he can convince a million mothers he loves children without bussing the other 999,999. It gives a candidate time to go home and kiss his own children.

GIVING MYSTERY PLAY

SPRINGFIELD, May 11—The senior class of the high school next Friday night will present the mystery play "Midnight," the plot of which is brought out by a weird setting rather than by the acting of the cast. The director is Robert Fisher, dramatics teacher.

"NEWCOMERS" PARTY HELD BY CHURCH GROUP

The Woman's Missionary society of Trinity Baptist church held a "newcomer's" party Thursday evening in the social rooms of the church with 85 persons present, 35 of whom were guests.

A song by the group, "Walking Close To His Side," opened the meeting, and prayer was given by Mrs. John Burtch. Mrs. George Wingett, new president, presided for a brief meeting. Program booklets for the new year were distributed by Mrs. J. B. Holloway. The theme for next year will be "The Word, A Light."

Minor Blaze Causes Slight Loss to Store

A minor blaze at the rear of 182 West Center street at Marty's Millinery store and a false alarm at the Houghton Sulky company at 185 North State street Sunday resulted in the only calls to city fire stations over the weekend, Fire Chief Owen Sifritt reported today.

At 12:47 p. m. a fire in a rubbish can at the rear of the Marion Theater set blazing by a careless discarded match scorched a door leading into the millinery store, causing $10 damage.

At 9:20 p. m. a faulty sprinkler system at the Houghton Sulky company factory set off a fire alarm on the outside of the building resulted in the loss of a few gallons of water without material damage.

Central station firemen responded to both calls.

2 Speakers On Program at Art Club Meeting

A TALK by Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, president of the Harding Memorial association and a report on progress made in plans for the organization of a Marion County Historical society by Miss Mabel Wheatley, made up an interesting meeting held by the Marion Art club Thursday night at the Harding Home on Mt. Vernon avenue.

In his talk Dr. Sawyer reviewed the history and development of the association and related experiences in the establishment of the organization. He paid tribute to Marion citizens responsible for banding of the association and told of plans now being carried out in remodeling and rearranging the home.

A constitution, recommended by state Archaeologic and Historical society was presented by Miss Wheatley and signed by the club members who became charter members. Mrs. B. F. Blake, president, named Miss Wheatley, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz, Mrs. L. D. Hamilton and Mrs. Walter E. Hune to serve as a committee to continue research work and to cooperate with other groups in the city in getting the society established.

In presenting the plans of the historical society Miss Wheatley said that in all America, institutions great and small, are preserving priceless records of the past. These holdings personify and bring to life the cultures and objectives of those who lived in past years. These records and articles are beyond price, and once gone can never be replaced. Many communities smaller than Marion boast of historical collections and museums, Miss Wheatley stated.

Miss Wheatley reported the annual art scholarship awards presented to Mary Lou Cunningham, John Beck and Reta Miley, high school pupils. It was announced that the club's scrapbook, arranged by Miss Ann Mereness received first honors in the judging at the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs held last month at Columbus.

The annual picnic will be held June 4, it was announced.

TEST WELL WATER

Samples of well water were taken by the 4 pupils enrolled in the Cardington vocational agriculture department and analyzed by the state health department for the purpose of locating unsafe wells on the student's home farms in the community. The results of the tests indicated that several wells were classified as unsafe and that attention should be given if safe drinking water is to be available on all farm units. Unsafe wells are accounted for in many instances as a result of surface water entering the wells in addition to many other sources of contamination.

COMMUNISTS' PARTY ACCUSED

House Un-American Group Says It Seeks Overthrow of Government.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 11—The Communist party of the United States was formally accused today of advocating "the overthrow of our government by force and violence."

The house committee on un-American activities made the accusation and called upon the executive branch of the government for "vigorous enforcement" of existing laws to curb Communist activities.

"What the Chinese or Greek Communists are doing today is what the American Communists plan to do tomorrow," the committee declared.

In a 160-page report distributed to members of the house, the committee said it has voluminous evidence that:

"1. The teachings of Marx, Engels, Lenin, and Stalin constitute the credo of the Communist party, U.S.A.—in fact of the Communist movement throughout the world. The doctrine of forceful and violent overthrow of anti-Communist governments is a basic premise of these teachings.

"2. The model party of the American-Communist is the Communist party of the Soviet Union, whose history forms a basic 'guide' or textbook for American Communists on the practice of force and violence.

"3. The American party is now and always has been under the direction of an international Communist organization dominated by the leaders of the Communist party of the Soviet Union . . . .

"4. The Communist party, U.S.A., and its leaders, both present and past, are on public record as advocates of the forceful and violent overthrow of the American government, despite their recent disavowals. Many of these leaders have received training in Moscow on the practical application of such methods.

"5. The Communist party U.S.A., has encouraged, supported, and defended, without a single deviation, the ruthless measures of foreign Communist parties to overthrow their legally constituted governments by force and violence. In other words, what the Chinese or Greek Communists are doing today is what the American Communists plan to do tomorrow under similar circumstances.

"6. While the United States Supreme court has not yet made a judicial determination on the question, numerous lower federal courts have, with unusual consistency, handed down decisions which characterized the Communist party, U.S.A., as an advocate of overthrowing our government by force and violence."

to the Marshall plan of economic aid to non-Communist Europe.

He stressed once again this country's determination not to be swayed from carrying out the multi-billion dollar recovery program.

Bluntly, the ambassador put the full blame for the current state of world tension on what he called Russia's aggressive actions in eastern Europe and Communist efforts to grab control of countries elsewhere.

At the same time Smith reassured Molotov "the United States has no hostile or aggresive designs whatever with respect to the Soviet Union."

Russian People Excited Over News

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, May 11—Announcement that Russia and the United States have expressed readiness to try to patch up their quarrels created excitement among the Russian people today, American observers here attached great significance to the development.

The press and radio gave wide publicity to the development, without editorial comment. The newspapers announced the United States had suggested a two-power meeting, to discuss the state of Soviet-American relations, and that Russia had accepted.

The Russian people appeared to welcome the news that "the Soviet government views favorably the desire of the government of the U.S.A. to improve these relations." These were the words of the Tass News agency's version of Russia's statement to U.S. Ambassador W. Bedell Smith.

COUNCIL

foreman, city mechanic, and the city painter. The present pay scale for these men is $1.25 an hour.

Twenty-four city employes are in the class B pay bracket which is now $1.10 per hour and under the new bill would be $1.25 per hour. Twenty-one employes fall in the class C pay bracket which is now $1 but under the new ordinance would be $1.15. The lowest pay rate now in effect for city employes is class D for laborers which under present rate is 95 cents an hour and would increase to $1.10 an hour. The city does have a class E pay rate which is set at present at 90 cents and would increase to $1.05 for any employe in this bracket.

Legislation to increase all service department employes paid vacations by two days over last year had passed its first reading last night. The motion to suspend the rules lost 8-1, Councilman Smith being the lone supporter.

A restatement of pay grievances of city employes was made to council by Herb Siens, international representative of the United Public Workers Union Local 310, CIO, stating the urgency of council action on the pay bill because of need of the workers and their families.

Hospital Resolution

Council unanimously passed a resolution authorizing Mayor Dowler and City Solicitor John Watters to enter negotiations with the county commissioners for a contract for participation by the city with the county in the erection, construction, maintenance and operation of a new hospital for the benefit of the county and city.

Councilman Clarence H. Sanden, Sixth ward, in a statement last night, said he wished to clear up the question raised by several persons in his ward as to whether he was opposed to the new hospital project. He stated that he is entirely in favor of the project but that at the previous meeting of council he did not vote with the majority because of his belief that the controlling factor in the project would be the county commissioners and he believed council should not commit itself until the commissioners had made a move either for or against the project. Mr. Sanden voted with the rest of council in a unanimous ballot for the negotiations with the county last night.

An ordinance authorizing the city auditor to employ a responsible individual to aid him in making collections of the 3 per cent city amusement tax on carnivals and small shows during late hours at night was passed by council with $50 appropriated from the general fund to the auditor's incidental fund to cover the cost.

Act on Equipment

Council approved an ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to rent, with the option of buying, one street roller, a maintainer, and a rubber tired trailer for transporting the roller.

An ordinance ordering the vacating by the city of an alley abutting the property of the Marion-Osgood Co. and running through to Smith street, excepting a portion of Evans road and an adjoining alley, was approved by council.

Councilmen passed an ordinance to settle a damage claim for $21.90 placed against the city by Dan Howell whose car was hit by a police cruiser on Nov. 8, 1947. It was adopted by an 8-1 vote. Councilman Rinehart dissenting.

Attorney Walter Moore, representing Corea Tubbs of 395 Scranton street, presented a compromise figure of $191 for damage he said was suffering by his client when his motorcycle overturned after hitting a hole in the pavement on South Prospect street. Questioned by council, City Solicitor John Watters said he believed the case could be compromised but personally he found the $191 figure a bit high. Upon the suggestion of President Slack, council directed Safety-Service Director Uncapher and Solicitor Watters confer with Mr. Moore on a compromise figure for settlement of the claim and report their findings back to council at its next meeting.

Roland Thomas, 671 East Center street, an east side grocer representing 14 other east end business men, stated it was rumored on the east side that parking meters were to be installed. President Slack assured him that such was not the case as council was still considering a proposal to establish one hour parking on both sides of East Center street between Carhart street and Seffner avenue, as petitioned for two weeks ago by Mr. Thomas and his fellow merchants. The merchants contend that the present unlimited parking time in that section causes traffic jams and hinders shoppers.

Councilman Smith voiced the complaint of shop workers of the First ward that the present bus service is still not early enough in the morning to permit them to ride buses to work. No action was taken on this matter pending a report of the utility committee.

The final matter discussed by council, also without any action being taken was a move by Councilman Cunningham to start legislation for Marion to adopt the Ohio sanitary code for plumbing for the city of Marion. He stated his belief the state construction code should be adopted as soon as it is completed. Mayor Dowler stated that sufficient legislation is already in effect on plumbing and other health ordinances. He stated that the city has ample regulations on the plumbing code but that no inspection of plumbing beyond city water lines is now in effect because council has not provided an inspector. With that council adjourned.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief, you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Union Hotel Provides Service Despite Strike

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 11 — The Park Lane Villa, residential hotel owned by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, reported today it was continuing to supply normal service despite a strike of employes.

M. E. Wilbur, manager of the hotel, said approximately 52 of the establishment's 90 maids, elevator operators, porters, cooks and waiters remained on the job yesterday when the walkout started.

The striking union, the AFL Building Service Employes, is asking a union shop and retroactivity to last Nov. 1 of a recent five-cent hourly pay boost.

Pickets marched in front of the hotel yesterday carrying signs accusing the brotherhood involved in the railroad strike threat of being unfair to the union. One sign read:

"We may not be the aristocracy of labor, Alvanley, but here we are."

Alvanley Johnston is head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, whose strike for higher pay and rule changes was called off after the government obtained an injunction forbidding it.

SECOND MARION MAN GOES ON TRIAL TODAY

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, May 11—Raymond Edward Littell, 29, of 276 Park Boulevard, Marion, went on trial at 9 a. m. today on a charge of armed robbery April 1 of Reno's Recreation Room, a downtown card parlor.

Littell faced the same jury of six men and six women which last week found his alleged accomplice Paul Robert Clark, 29, of 131½ South State street, Marion, guilty. He was sentenced to serve 10 to 25 years in Ohio penitentiary for his part in the same cardroom stickup and now is serving his term.

Clark was sentenced on a single charge, that of armed robbery. Littell, despite reports that he had turned "state's evidence" in the Clark trial, faced the court this morning on two counts; one of armed robbery which carries 10 to 25 years on conviction, and one of unarmed robbery which carries 1 to 25 years upon conviction.

A written confession by Littell of his part in the robbery, signed by him, was placed in evidence by Wyandot Prosecutor Russell C. Price just before the state rested its case at noon today. Just before the noon recess Marion Attorney Walter Moore, defending Littell, placed his client at the mercy of the court in a last minute attempt to secure a lesser sentence. Court attaches expected the case to go to the jury shortly after court resumed at 1 p. m. today.

MARION GIRL FOURTH IN SPELLING EVENT

Cardington Pupil Takes First Place in Contest.

Miss Islea Beth Endicott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Endicott of 377 Oak street, and a seventh grade student at St. Mary Parochial school, won fourth place in the central Ohio state junior high spelling bee championship held Saturday in Columbus, while Miss Sue Carter, an eighth grader at Vernon Junior High school, also entered in the contest, was eliminated in the written exam held in the morning. Miss Carter is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. King Carter of 809 Mt. Vernon avenue.

Miss Carter won the right to compete with the best spellers in other schools in the state by winning here in competition with pupils in three city, parochial and rural schools, and Miss Endicott qualified when parochial school competition was held April 17 at Columbus.

As the prize for fourth place Miss Endicott was presented a wrist watch.

Champion speller in the contest was Marlene Bean of Cardington, who is eleven years old.

In the written tests in the morning, the number of contestants was reduced to 22. These winners then competed in the oral spelldown held in the afternoon. The finals were held in the grand ballroom of the Southern hotel.

RAILWAYS

erties back to their owners without risking a new deadlock and an actual strike?

Wages, Rules Undecided

The 11-month-old dispute over wages and working rules is not settled. Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman had labored for days to persuade the railroad operators and the unions to come to an agreement.

But he failed and yesterday's seizure order was the result.

Secretary of the Army Royall planned to confer again some time today with the heads of the three unions: David B. Robertson of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Alvanley Johnston of the Locomotive Engineers; and A. J. Glover of the Switchmen's union.

Last night, after facing reporters and cameramen at frequent intervals all through a dramatic and swift-changing day, the three union chiefs cooped themselves up in their hotel rooms and let a young assistant, Eddie Gloss, make the announcement the country was waiting to hear.

Brief Announcement

It was 10:20 p. m. when Gloss stepped out of an elevator into the lobby of the Hamilton hotel and said simply to the waiting newsmen:

"The Brotherhoods will comply with the court order. Steps to that effect are being taken immediately."

The "steps" were telegrams the three union heads were running to their local officers. The messages went out so late that not all the 150,000 workers involved were expected to get the word in time. Some confusion appeared probable.

But without the court order and the unions' obedience the strike would have begun at 6 o'clock in each time zone this morning.

The Goldsborough order said the threatened strike would deprive the country of essential transportation, hamper commerce, obstruct the mails, imperil the national health and safety, frustrate the powers conferred on the government's executive branch by the constitution, and cause "irreparable injury" to the nation.

The judge ordered the three unions to withdraw their strike notice "forthwith" and not permit or encourage a walkout.

The union leaders' telegrams, after describing this order, said the strike call is "hereby cancelled" and all employes should "continue to report for duty."

Thus the government had beaten down another major strike by using the injunction weapon.

Pupils Escape Injury In School Bus Mishap

Three accidents occurred on highways in the Marion area yesterday, one involving a LaRue school bus with 27 passengers aboard, none of whom were injured, the state highway patrol reported today.

The bus accident occurred on county road 12 at the intersection of county road 2 at 4:10 p. m. when the vehicle, driven by Charles Gillespie of LaRue, ran into a truck driven by Herman Lutz of 583 Silver street at the intersection while making a left turn. The Lutz truck was stopped. All 27 of the passengers live near LaRue on route 2.

Gillespie was arrested on a charge of driving without chauffeur's license and was fined $10 and cost in municipal court today.

A tractor and trailer weighing 36,000 pounds and driven by Carl Lenman of Columbus was forced off the road at 12 p. m. two and a half miles south of Marion on highway 30-S by an unknown motorist without injury to the driver.

At 1:15 p. m. eight and a half miles south of Marion at the junction of highways 23 and 47, a car driven by Miss Audie Shock of Toledo and one driven by Neil M. Kerr of near Salem collided when the Kerr car drove from route 47 into the path of the Shock car traveling on route 23.

GRANTED PAROLE

A Crawford county man, Kenneth Snavely, is one of 45 prisoners at the London prison farm named for parole by the Ohio Pardon and Parole commission, it was reported in an Associated Press dispatch from Columbus today. The paroles are to become effective June 22. Snavely was sentenced on a charge of non-support from Crawford county.

Slugging Prexies Back Up Daum To Down East, 12-6

Merl Daum, pitching in the second successive game for the Harding diamond crew in the central district baseball tournament yesterday, permitted 11 hits but sent on to win as his mates did some terrific clouting to score 12 runs while Columbus East was able to reach home with only 6.

The Hardingmen got to three East pitchers for 11 hits, pushing across two runs in the first, four in a big second inning, four more in the sixth and one each in the fifth and seventh.

Dick Thomas, center fielder, hit the major blow of the day as he smashed a three-run triple in the top of the second. Ralston, Mathias and Hill, first baseman, left fielder and right fielder respectively, also hit three-baggers.

East made one run in the first, another in the second and pulled within one run of the slugging Prexies with four in the bottom of the fifth. Daum struck out four while Mizzell set 10 Prexies down swinging. East used three pitchers trying to stop the Presidents, Black being charged with the loss.

The Prexies will go into the semi-finals this afternoon at 4 o'clock when they meet St Charles High school on the Ohio State university diamond. Johnson is scheduled for mound duty today and if he can regain his control the Prexies will have a good chance of copping the win.

Hamilton Club Plans Eddie Miller Night

By The Associated Press

HAMILTON, O., May 11—Hamilton's quarterback club plans to hold an "Eddie Miller Night" during the Cincinnati-Philadelphia baseball game June 9.

The club announced its plans yesterday when Miller returned for a talk. His speech here last winter resulted in his being traded to the Phils. Miller criticized Cincinnati Manager Johnny Neun and fellow players in his first appearance.

Yesterday, the ace shortstop said he had meant no harm, and was "only analyzing the club as I saw it." Miller also said he was very happy at Philadelphia.

Manager Ben Chapman and several other Phils accompanied him.

CUBS LEAVE TODAY ON EXTENDED TRIP

The Marion Cubs, idle Monday, leave today on their first extended road trip of the young Ohio-Indiana league season.

They meet the Richmond Braves tonight in the first of a two-game series, and will swing on to Muncie for Tuesday and Friday night games, to Newark for a Saturday game and a double header Sunday, and to Zanesville for a pair of encounters next Tuesday and Wednesday before coming home Thursday, May 20, for the first of a series with Newark.

The Cubs are one and a half games above the Richmond Braves, whom they have defeated twice, but are a game off the pace-setting Muncie Reds.

The Cubs and the Portsmouth Athletics are tied for third place, with five wins and four loses. Springfield is second with a 5-3 mark, and Muncie leads the Class D loop with a 7-4 record.

Simpson May Enter Indianapolis Race

Bob Simpson of 1091 East Church street, who narrowly missed a bad smashup Sunday while driving in the big car races at Funk Speedway in Dayton, says that he will enter the 500 mile Indianapolis classic if present plans for acquiring a car can be carried out.

Simpson, whose home is in Waterford, Mich., but who has been living here for some time, is well known in racing circles, having ranked second in the National Central States standings in 1946. This, however, is his first season on the speedways since then.

Racing only twice thus far this season, he finished fifth in the main event at Winchester, Ind., and Sunday at Dayton finished first in the second event and came in third in the main event over 20 laps. In winning the second event, he covered eight laps in 5 15½. He drives a "McCurdy Dryer" owned by Harold (Monk) McCurdy. Harley Haines completes the team of owner, driver and mechanic.

Ohio Homes Menaced By Moving Hillside

By The Associated Press

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 11—A slowly moving hillside today threatened two homes near here.

Attributed to heavy rains and the collapse of clay and coal mines, the slide has caused the hill to move at least six inches, city officials said.

The homes on the incline are occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Flave Betteridge and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lemal. Gas and water lines have been snapped and the walls of Lemal's garage cracked.

Both families are continuing to occupy the buildings, however.

CARDINGTON WINS MORROW TOURNEY

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, May 11—Cardington Pirates rallied in the fifth inning on three runs to win the first annual Morrow county high school baseball championship here today, 6 to 4.

It was the Pirates' tenth straight win.

They'll meet Lincoln of Columbus Wednesday in the Class B district tournament at Galion. The winner of that game will meet Columbus St. Mary of the Lake.

CALEDONIA WINS BASEBALL TITLE

Caledonia defeated Waldo, 5-3 on the Lincoln Park diamond yesterday to win the Marion county baseball championship and a trip to the district tournament at Columbus where they will meet Hebron tomorrow afternoon at Ohio State university's baseball diamond number 2.

The Domans, who Saturday won the county track title, won the baseball title with a three-run sixth inning. Robertson opened with a single and stole second and third, loading the bases. Winston Underwood then singled to right field scoring two runs and a third crossed the plate when Waldo's right fielder bobbled the pick-up.

It was pitcher Paul Drake's third straight win in the county tournament. He struck out 12, walked seven, while Waldo's Larcum whiffed 13 and walked four.

4,500 Watch Waldo Motorcycle Races

A crowd of approximately 4,500 motorcycle racing fans gathered at the Waldo speedway on route 98 Sunday to watch 36 riders compete for $800 in cash prizes and three trophies in a "Tourist Trophy" race sponsored by the Marion Triangle Motorcycle club.

Ray Walton of Wooster proved to be the fastest rider of the 36 who qualified (69 entered) as he won the first prize in the final expert race, covering five miles in 6 15 10.

Dick Smiley of Indiana won first place and a trophy in the amateur final, going the rounds in slightly slower time. Dick Clamfort of Grove City won the novice class trophy.

All told nine events were run which included six elimination heats, two for each class, and the final race in the novice, amateur and expert divisions. Fastest qualifying time was 36.59 for one lap—made by Dick Clamfort.

Charles Stiles was the only casualty of the day, suffering lacerations about the head when his wheel spun from under him in the first expert elimination. He was treated and released at City hospital.

Other winners included expert Bob Shaw, second; Art Heck (last year's champion of Ohio), third; and Pete Lovinsky, fourth. Amateur: G. Goss, second, and Bill Spencer, third. Novice: Booby Hall, second, and H. Henderson, third.

Elmer Riddle, Red Castoff, Now Pirates' Ace Pitcher

By The Associated Press

Any sports writer Elmer Riddle's comebacks termed by Pirates part-owner Bing Crosby as the greatest since Al Jolson's were definitely dispelled today.

The gritty 31-year-old right-hander, forced to quit baseball [illegible] years ago because of an ailing arm, proved his previous star performances were no mere flashes in the pan last night when [illegible] game of the league Joe DiMaggio, Bill Johnson and George Stirnweiss each hammered home runs off the White Sox Bill Wight and Earl Harrist.

Early Wynn registered his [illegible] victory with a five-hit performance as he pitched the Washington Senators to a 6-2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns in a night contest at the Capital City. The National league's only scheduled day game, between the Giants and Cubs in Chicago, was postponed because of rain. All other teams in the majors were not scheduled.

SIGNS WITH RAMS

LOS ANGELES, May 11—Robert Agler, Otterbein college's 1947 football captain, signed with the Los Angeles Rams yesterday. Agler, 24, is six feet, 1½ inches tall and weighs 217 pounds.

Riddle, a former Cincinnati Reds pitcher purchased last winter from the Cincinnati club for $10,000 waiver price strictly as a gamble, [illegible] has turned out to be the [illegible] of Pittsburgh's second corps. [illegible] night's triumph was the [illegible] for the Columbus, Ga., veteran.

The triumph coupled with Boston's 6-0 victory over the Cardinals in a night game in St. Louis, put the Pirates in a virtual tie for first place with the idle New York Giants and the Redbirds. The Cardinals however, still maintained a 14-point mathematical advantage, although the three teams are even-stephen in games won and lost. St. Louis has won 10 and lost six for a .625 percentage. New York and Pittsburgh own 11-7 records for .611.

Shuts Out Cards

Although Johnny Sain of Boston was clipped for 10 hits, he became the first pitcher to shut out the Cards this season. It occurred in a night game in St. Louis. The victory boosted the Braves into a three-way tie with Brooklyn and Philadelphia's Phillies for fourth place, two and a half games behind the leaders. Each team has won nine and lost 10.

The Cleveland Indians strengthened their hold on first place in the American league by outslugging the Red Sox in Boston 12-7. It was the fifth straight triumph for the Indians and the fifth straight loss for Joe McCarthy's disappointing pennant contenders.

Larry Doby, hard-hitting Negro outfielder, led the Tribe attack. He pounded out four hits including his fifth home run.

The victory enabled the Indians to increase their first place lead over the idle Philadelphia Athletics to 27 percentage points. The teams are tied in games won and lost.

The third place New York Yankees swamped the Chicago White Sox 9-3, to keep within a

Mur... ...ster—and missus—...the same as when Edna ...society editor of The Star, visited a boxing show at Eagles hall in 1928 and wrote a cryptic dissertation of what she saw. It wasn't quite so common then to see a lady at the fights, especially a society writer. Her write-up, in part, follows:

Headlines — Chicken - Hearted Folk Who Flinch When Animals Are Slaughtered Yell Themselves Hoarse at Boxing Show.

"Four out of five have it. That inexplainable atom in your make up that makes you pick your own winner and pull for him mentally and verbally. Beg, buy, steal or wheedle a ticket to a boxing show, park yourself as near the ringside as the usher will permit and if you don't air your sentiments along with the hundreds of others you are the fifth and haven't got it.

"Folks that would be shaky for a half day if they so much as put an end to one of the nine lives of the most disreputable kind of an alley feline would do bodily injury to a hard-hearted character wreaking bodily injury to a horse or dog, shriek themselves hoarse at the ringside. You can't help it.

Sat In With Fans

"I sat in with the devotees of the sport last night at Eagles hall and found it plenty exciting from start to finish. Except for the temporary area under the super bright lights, around which the seats are arranged, one might think she were attending a convention.

"There was nothing which savored of the type which I pictured as following the game. Save for the fact that it seemed to be open season for gum chewing, the majority of the customers looked like they knew their Emily Post.

"And the gladiators, in spite of the fact they expect rough handling and mayhap a bloody nose (that's putting it mildly), they surely have a touch of artistry to which they give expression in their gaily colored trunks and bathrobes, and can you imagine a boy named Harold getting rough?

(The above boy named Harold is reputed to have gotten pretty rough when the need arose. He was at that time just a chunky lad trying to get along with people while at the same time punching them in the nose. These seems to be a confliction of effort there, but at any rate he has turned out to be Jimmy Williams, boxing promoter, still affiliated with the sport and spending his free time handling young boys aspiring to the ring.)

Hair Like Sheik

"And their hair! No sheik ever gave more careful attention to the combing of his locks. I didn't agree with the decision of the judges in a couple of the bouts last night, or rather, the man I wanted to didn't win. The chap that won the main go lost out with me when he positively yawned in my face, and he gazed at the crowd with the bored expression of a matinee idol.

"He sauntered back to his corner after each round like some one taking a Sunday afternoon stroll but he won, for the poor fellow whom I though did all the fighting, had the bad luck to be present everytime he started to hit.

"There was no social hour or serving of tea following the fight."

Lima Castoff Leading Cubs In Batting

A castoff second baseman, a guy the club one step out of the cellar of the Ohio-Indiana league couldn't use, Tony Mislovich, late of the Lima Terriers, is currently leading the Marion Cubs in batting.

Tony, who was signed by Chicago White Sox this spring, was released from Lima little more than two weeks ago, but didn't want to give up baseball and came to Marion on his own for a tryout.

He was signed shortly after and played his first game at Portsmouth a week ago.

Since then, the castoff has hit safely 11 times in 19 official trips to the plate for a fat .579 batting average.

Tony is no stranger to the Cub organization, for he spent last summer in Tony Lucadello's baseball school in Mansfield, but was wooed away from the Cubs by the White Sox. The baseball school whose graduates make up a fair percentage of the players on the Marion Cubs this year, teaches baseball hopefuls the fundamentals of the game Lucadello, a full time Chicago Cub scout, opened two training schools this summer, one in Greenfield, O., and one in Michigan.

Two other newcomers to the Cubs, Bob Osgood and Don Schmitt, also have clubbed their way to the top of the batting average standings.

Osgood, who was sent to the Cubs Saturday to fill in as a catcher for injured Manager Zeke Bekeza, is batting .500—five singles in ten trips.

Schmitt, a third baseman who has been playing in the outfield since arriving here Friday, has hit safely five times in 13 trips—one of his blows was a four-run homer.

But the most consistant hitter on the club is William Lee Bohlander, who has hit 16 times in 41 trips for a .390 average. He leads in runs batted in with 12.

Bill Bolduc still retains his leadership in extra base hits, though his average is but .245. He has four two-baggers, a triple, and a homer, and is next in the runs batted in department with nine.

Doby's Big Bat Wins for Tribe

NEW YORK, May 11 — "I can hit this pitching," says Larry Doby, Negro outfielder whose eye-popping blasts have been a major factor in the Cleveland Indian's return to first place in the American league.

Doby's big bat provided an exclamation point to his statement yesterday with his fifth homer of the young season. It was a mighty 440-foot clout into the right-center field bleachers at Boston's Fenway Park to send the Indians on their way to a series sweep over the Red Sox with a 12-7 victory.

LARRY DOBY Hits Homer No. 5

The husky Negro, who also slammed a double and two singles in yesterday's tilt, has set the fans buzzing with three mighty homers in the Tribe's last four games which helped the Indians increase their sizzling victory streak to five straight.

Thurman Tucker started the Indians' scoring spree yesterday with a triple in the first inning. Cleveland then tallied three runs on Doby's double, Boudreau's single, two walks and an infield out. Boston knotted the count in the bottom half of the frame on Stan Spence's three-run homer off Al Gettel.

Doby broke the backs of the Red Sox with his tie-breaking homer in the second and Joe Gordon pushed the score to 6-3 on his third round tripper with one aboard. Gettel was charged with another run in the bottom half of the second before Ed Klieman came in to throttle the Bosox for six innings.

Adding a run on pitcher Maurice McDermott's wildness in the third, the Tribe sewed up the triumph with a pair of runs on him. They also tallied three times in the ninth on a walk, Doby's single, Boudreau's double and a one-bagger by Eddie Robinson.

The fielding gem of the game was the Tribe's first triple play since 1946. With Wally Moses on second and Birdie Tebbetts on first in the eighth, Boudreau speared pinch-hitter Bill Goodman's liner, tossed to Gordon doubling Moses and Gordon's throw to Robinson completed the triple out. It was the second of the year in the American league.

New York Stock Quotations

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 11—Calling off of the threatened railway strike gave another lift to selected stocks today although many market leaders ran into profit cashing.

Carriers, which led the belated comeback of Monday, again were in front. Activity slackened after the opening but gains of fractions to a point or so predominated near midday.

Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific touched peaks for the year. Ahead most of the time were Rock Island railroad preferred (on a favorable dividend), N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania railroad, Baltimore & Ohio, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, International Telephone, Texas Co., Mission corp., Paramount Pictures and Caterpillar Tractor.

Occasional stumblers included Boeing, United Aircraft, Lockheed, Consolidated Edison, Kennecott, Westinghouse Electric, Allied Chemical, Great Northern railway and Standard Oil (NJ).

A New Name for a PUBLIC SERVICE

With the approval of its stockholders, the name of Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation has been changed to

THE COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM, INC.

Since the Corporation divested itself of its electrical properties under the provisions of the Public Utilities Holding Company Act, the new name becomes more descriptive of the System's functions in public service.

The Corporation and its operating subsidiaries have long been known, unofficially, as the COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM. Now, with the formal approval at the Annual Stockholders Meeting on April 29th at Wilmington, Delaware, the new corporate title becomes official.

COLUMBIA GAS SYSTEM serves 1,000,000 homes, businesses and industries with natural gas directly through its own distribution lines, and another 800,000 customers through wholesale deliveries to other utilities in cities such as Washington, D. C., Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio. Last year the System delivered 231 billion cubic feet of gas through some 31,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines. The System is even now preparing to deliver by 1950 in excess of 300 billion cubic feet of natural gas annually.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

By AP Newsfeatures

IRVING BERLIN, born May 11, 1888, in Russia, is a kingpin of Tin Pan Alley, Broadway and Hollywood, as the composer of 700 songs. He began his musical career as a singer in "Nigger Mike's" saloon in New York, and began to write songs because a waiter in a competing saloon achieved neighborhood fame by writing one. Among his most famous Broadway musical shows were 'As Thousands Cheer" and 'Louisiana Purchase"

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

A psychologist proposes that Hollywood employ technical experts on love as it employs technical experts on other sports.

But if anyone takes this technical expert suggestion seriously there is a possibility that kissing Jim' could be induced to leave Alabama.

"Kissing Jim' aims to be president and most of the babies he has kissed have been of voting age but there is more money in movies.

For my part, I think the love scenes on the screen are as adequate as most of those in the loges.

This is a matter of opinion and loges.

From 1940 to 1945 total U S milk production rose 12 per cent and egg production 40 per cent.
